

We know that each campus involved in 360 Proof begins at a different level of experience and readiness. The tools in 360 Proof and the supporting training modules are based on the best available knowledge in the field and should serve campus leaders well. We also anticipate that you may come up against challenges to implementing a comprehensive alcohol prevention effort. Many campuses will experience early successes while others will take more time. There are several opportunities to gain assistance with the implementation of 360 Proof.

1. Ask for Assistance

Reach out to NASPA with your implementation or other questions at 360proof.org.

2. Join the 360 Proof Learning Collaborative

All campuses participating in 360 Proof are invited to join a virtual Learning Collaborative to learn from and share ideas with other campuses implementing 360 Proof. During web-based 360 Proof Learning Collaborative meetings, you'll be able to consult with other campuses and national experts and discuss challenges and successes. In addition, you'll have access to contact information for other campus contacts engaged in the 360 Proof Learning Collaborative so you can consult with colleagues by phone or email. To access the Learning Collaborative, visit 360proof.org

3. Attend a Learning Session

All 360 Proof participants are invited to attend learning sessions hosted annually at the NASPA Alcohol and Other Drug and Violence Prevention Conference. The learning sessions will include demonstrations of program tools, best practice ideas, and opportunities to consult with an implementation expert in a one-on-one format. Check the relevant event schedule and 360proof.org for the most up to date informatin.

Your participation in 360 Proof can offer hope for all colleges and universities. Your leadership, with the participation of key partners, can make a difference.

Thank you for your efforts.
